About Our Project

The Moffitt MAC+ Proton Project

Estimated at $90 M, the Moffitt project outreach event offers a comprehensive platform for professionals in the construction and facility management industries to delve into these crucial aspects of building design, construction, and maintenance. Kindly be informed that this project follows a phased procurement approach. Certain trades, such as Concrete, Sitework, and Steel, have already been awarded, and construction is presently in progress. We eagerly anticipate engaging in discussions about the various opportunities associated with this project.
